Presidents' Message:

Holidays are great! I love red and green and bright lights....yeah, I know, I am a simple guy. We will hold our annual greens party on zoom and I hope you will join us and show us what you have made. See details elsewhere in the newsletter. We just about have our garden, bonsai, containers and such winterized. The leaves are not done, and it is not a chore I look forward to. Our Oregon white oak trees hold on to the leaves until late November or early December and I refuse to do much until they are all done. It is funny, I have no problem weeding the same garden bed multiple times a year, but raking the lawn twice—no way!

We have a great slate of speakers coming up this winter and spring. On January 4, Vanessa Gardner Nagel will speak about Evaluating and Implementing New Garden Strategies. Then Susan M. Walcott and Christine Parks will talk about their new book, Grow Your Own Tea, on February 1. The March 1 meeting will also be an author presenting a new book--Loree Bohl, Fearless Gardening. Our last presentation for the season (April 5) will be History of Gardening in the Pacific Northwest by Lucy Hardiman.

Happy Holidays!

Evening Garden Club Member Meeting Minutes

November 2, 2020 via Zoom

Meeting was opened by co-president Dan Edge at 7:02 PM. There were two speakers – Dan Edge's presentation was entitled Xeriscape Conversion followed by Kathleen Rochester's presentation entitled A Gazillion Petals – A Very Flowery Week in the Netherlands and Belgium.

Business Meeting

Minutes of October 6, 2010 meeting were approved.

Dan addressed the issue of how to resolve the issue of whether or not to have the annual greens party or perhaps consider an alternative such as a demonstration and/or offering an opportunity to show what was created without any type of gathering. Since there was no consensus from those present by Zoom, Dan will send out an email and ask for feedback.

Bulb sale gross proceeds are $3,739 although there may be additional receipts. A complete report will be presented next month. Net profit is estimated around $2,000.

There was no formal treasurer's report given this evening.

Spring bulb sale – it was decided to have one. All that want to help with the sale, please contact Dan.

Valerie Hall, Leanna Troson, and Lisa Borgerson won the three bulb raffle prizes.

Meeting adjourned at 8:37 PM.

Janet Magedanz, co-secretary
